

MISSION FACTS

Active persecution of Christians takes place in Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Somalia, Yemen, North Korea, Laos, Vietnam, China, Iran, Morocco, Libya, Egypt and Algeria. Over 160,000 believers will be martyred this year.

HEART CHECK

It is so much easier to talk about our faith, to sit in church listen to singing and sermons, to convince ourselves that we have done our share – we came to church! It is really what Christ wanted, the grand result of his death on the cross? Can we not do more? Give more? Pray more? Weep more?

THE MANDATE

No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon. Matthew 6:24

THE MEDITATION

In a culture where personal freedoms are the measurement of all things, the idea of a master is so out-of-place. Imagining ourselves free, we have become slaves to impulse, materialism, self-ingratiation, leisure and greed. Paul warned us, that if we let sin reign we would end up obeying it. We would fall back under the influence of the very thing from which we were redeemed.

We see our relationship with you in such static terms, such positional ways. "I'm saved!" we declare. But there is a behavioral dimension. Only by yielding ourselves as slaves to righteousness, only by doing right things, do we prove our liberty. Father, make me an instrument of righteousness. Help me to embrace the disciplines that move me to obey from the heart, what you have asked of me.

So many among us have been set "free from" something. But they have never been liberated enough to be "free to" – free to pray passionately, free with worship with abandon, free to publically declare their allegiance to you, free to lay every potential idol on the altar, free to sell all and follow you. You are the treasure of our lives. You are calling us to journey. Some of us you may call to abandon our nets and sell our boats – to a radical change – as you did the disciples. And it will be the best decision we ever made. Set us free from this world. Set us free to follow you. I know – to be a true disciple demands the discipline of a soldier. Give me the grace to begin the exercise regiment today.
